

Densitop[®] Industrial Flooring - Oven Room Installation

After the failure of various epoxy and polyurethane based floor topping products in the cooking rooms of existing production lines Densitop MT was selected for application in the new production line Oven Room.

The selection of the MT system was based on the successful installation of a sample area and an impressive international track record in similar secondary processing areas.

The ability to withstand extreme working temperatures, thermal shock, constant running water /submersion and an aggressive cleaning regime are fundamental to the success of Densitop products in the processed chicken, meat and seafood industries.
